

As we continue to monitor the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) situation very closely, we want to share the actions Gateway Community Health Center, Inc. is taking to keep our clinics safe and clean for all our patients, employees, and the general public. We are monitoring daily and following the latest guidance from the CDC, WHO, Texas DSHS, and our local Health Department as we prepare for the potential exposure to the COVID-19.

To our patients, we assure you, we have well-established infection control protocols and all our staff is trained to properly screen patients. We are following CDC hygiene standards, proper disinfection standards, and the correct usage of personal protective equipment. At Gateway Community Health Center, we are committed to providing quality health care for everyone and are confident in our ability to provide care to our community; both the insured and uninsured.

We do ask the public to take these preventative measures to protect themselves and others, as outlined by the CDC :

Wash your hands often and for 20 seconds with warm, soapy water.

Avoid close contact with people who are sick.

Stay home if you are feeling ill.

Practice Social Distancing.

Cough and sneeze into your elbow.

Disinfect frequently touched areas.
